

Worship Resources

Sunday, March 29th - songs and prayers, plus resources for your use at any time.

Even though we are physically apart, let's be together Sunday morning at 10:30, as we pray, sing, listen and read scripture, hear a message ... carrying to God our heartfelt prayers of gratitude and petition; sitting in silence, allowing God's Holy Spirit, Love, Grace, Peace sweep over and through us.

For whenever two or more are gathering in the name of Jesus Christ, He is there.
Can I hear an "Amen!"

There are more resources on the church website, including Pastor Eric's message for Sunday (to be posted Sunday morning), and our Organist, Marilyn Lee, playing hymns and special music on the organ!

{Thank you Rob Bickmore for recording and posting these!}

Stay Connected...

With church gatherings suspended, we gather and share through telephone & technology. Staying connected during this time of Coronavirus is important for all of us. May these emails and the links provided help you stay connected to God and the wider community.

If you have items to share -- news, a prayer, song, Bible verse, reflection, photo -- please send it by email so we can share them.

Take Time to Be Holy

Thought for the day....

"When we create a listening and sharing space for each other, we can stay human. Staying in the heart synchronization, being open on the heart level is really what we need right now, also in order to make the best decisions. This crisis is also a chance to practice this." -Thomas Hubl

Contemplation from Richard Rohr

"One does not become enlightened by imagining figures of light," Carl Jung wrote, "but by making the darkness conscious." Reading this, I realize that in a whole lifetime spent with seekers of enlightenment, I have never once heard anyone speak in hushed tones about the value of endarkenment.

What a compelling word and question [we are invited] to consider: endarkenment. What are we learning about ourselves, each other, and even God through these times? What are we only now coming "to know" through this time of not-knowing?
